TRENTON, N. J., April 16.—“A magnesium signal flare suddenly blazed up early today on the lawn of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh’s home near Hopewell, N. J., brilliantly illuminating the lonely white house atop Sourland Mountain.

Its blinding glare, visible for miles around the countryside, brought scores of sleepy farmers running toward the scene in the hope that it might signify a happy turn in the efforts to recover the abducted Lindbergh baby.

But the light, piercing the surrounding darkness, for five minutes with its glare, died down, and was followed by no visibly promising sign that any of the private negotiations of Lindbergh or his emissaries with the kidnapers had been crowned with final success.

Explains Incident.

Colonel H. Norman Schwarzkopf, in charge of New Jersey state police, asserted the incident was due to an accident.

The flare was an old magnesium light, which it was thought would not burn any more,” he said in an emergency bulletin when asked

House Committee Takes Up Economy Program Of President Hoover

By WILLIAM S. NEAL

WASHINGTON, April 16.—President Hoover’s completed economy program, designed ultimately to effect savings of at least $200,000,000 a year, was taken under advisement by the special House economy committee today.

Determined to force action in the House next Tuesday on the money-saving issue, the economy committee planned a strenuous effort to evolve a bill from its own and the President’s plan.

Three major points of difference barred an agreement between the committee and the President’s plan. Mr.
Hoover was either acceptable or were already in the committee’s economy budget.

Administration’s plan for introduction of the five-day week principle in government departments by furloughing workers to save money as opposed to the committee’s straight pay-cut idea.

Committee’s proposal to unite the army and navy into single department of national defense, opposed by the President.

President’s request for authority from Congress to reorganize government departments, subject to 60-day veto by Congress. Thus far opposed by committee.

Many of the recommendations placed before the committee by Mr.
Hoover were either acceptable or were already in the committee’s
economy budget.

Darrow Ready To Resume His Place At Trial

Prosecution In Honolulu
Case Demands Showdown
On Insanity Plea

GIVING TESTIMONY

Trial To Resume Today
After Recess Due To Darrow’s Illness

HONOLULU, T. H. April 16.—
With chief defense counsel Clarence Darrow reported ready for the fray again, a showdown on the insanity defense in the Fortescue-Massie trial was demanded today by Prosecutor John C. Kelley.

Kelley was hurried down the gauntlet to the 74 year old defender whose sudden attack of gastritis yesterday forced a day’s postponement in the trial, and today’s legal battle promised to be both bitter and brilliant.

Center of Battle

The center of the fight is a serious, quick-witted young naval officer, Lieut. Thomas H. Massie, who is straining at the leash to unfold before a mixed blood jury of his peers what is confidently expected to be a sensational confession of the shooting of Joseph Kahahawai at the bungalow home of Mrs. Grace Hubbard Fortescue, his mother-in-law.

Lieut. Massie, Mrs. Fortescue and two naval enlisted men are on trial charged with the second degree murder of Kahahawai, accused as the leader of a gang of five hoodlums in a brutal attack on Mrs.
Massie.

Darrow retired early last night, assuring his friends that he felt his old self again, and that he would be ready when court convened for whatever the prosecution has to offer.

likeable Negro died last week in Oklahoma, name Bill Pickett.
Don’t mean a thing to you, does

Well, he was the originator of a stunt that has thrilled mildogging.”

When they arrest a cowboy for cruelty to animals in bulldogging, they arrest the wrong participant, more men get hurt

He worked with white cow-

Young Woman And Girl Are Missing—One Not

PHILADELPHIA, April 16.—Clutching fingers of ruthless kidnaping rings snatched another victim into oblivion in the Pennsylvania-
New Jersey-Delaware borderline section today.

In this territory, within the last 48 hours, kidnapers have struck without mercy and without warning at three persons—a schoolboy, a slender blue-eyed girl and an unidentified young woman.

The latter was the latest victim.
Three negroes, believed the same whose kidnap plot was frustrated on Thursday by the daring escape of 14 year old Edward Walsh, their intended victim snatched a well dressed girl, about 20 or 22 years old from a south Philadelphia street this morning.

Thrown Into Auto

They threw her into an automobile, stifled her screams, overpowered her desperate efforts to escape and sped off with their prey.

Hours later, the latest outrage, the girl’s identity had not been learned.
Police fear that she may have been one of the thousands of girl stenographers and office workers in south Philadelphia.

If their fears are borne out, the girl’s identity probably will not be established, nor will her parents and relatives miss her, until she fails to return home at the usual hour this afternoon or tonight.

Hunt For Girl

Meanwhile, in nearby Delaware, police pushed a determined search for Hilda Brodsky, chubby-cheeked little daughter of Harold Brodsky, wealthy merchant, despite the pleas

PA NEW OBSERVES

Spring flowers are beginning to bloom profusely in the Kurtz yard on East Washington street, a border of pretty little blue flowers surrounding several of the beds being very beautiful at the present time.

Just after the caretakers got the Court House lawn in good shape for the spring, along came the unemployed army Friday afternoon and tramped it down again.

Only the most enthusiastic trout fishers were out yesterday. It was a little too cold and the water was too high to suit some of the old timers and they were content to wait a few days before trying their luck.

The residents about Sumner and Highland avenues have been giving kicks about the heavy smoke which has been caused the past few days by the burning of leaves, rubbish and trees on the property at the corner of those two streets. The women in the district who have just cleaned house are not welcoming the clouds of smoke on their clean windows and curtains.

The county’s cream of student musicians competed at the senior high last night against each other for the honor to represent the district in the northwestern inter-scholastic music contest at Grove City later.

On the Diamond this morning Pa
New saw two men carrying a garden sprinkler can, rake and pitchfork, while a short distance behind were two more men, carrying bamboo fishing poles and hip boots.
How are those for signs of spring?

On the heels of reports from

The death toll, meanwhile, climbed

BATTLE FOR STATE CONTROL AT PRIMARY

Organization Is Battling Pinchot

Control Of State Committee Is Sought In Election This Month

PINCHOT SEEKS TO GET MAJORITY

By JOSEPH A. LOFTUS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, April 16.—Pennsylvania's Republican organization, faced with a stern challenge from Gov. Gifford Pinchot for control of the state committee, prepared today to combat the executive's threat with a lightning drive during the waning stages of the campaign.

Assertions that the governor is interested solely in nominating only one member of his slate, whether that be Gen. Smedley D. Butler, Judge Joseph Stadfield, or any other single candidate, are disproved by a state-wide view which shows that he has set up aspirants for state committee places in some of the most important districts.

Will Hold Reins
The faction controlling the committee obviously will hold the powerful reins guiding the party machinery through the state chairman, who is to be selected at a meeting next month in Harrisburg. April 26, therefore, will settle decisively one of the most significant phases of the primary campaign. Neither side has minimized its importance. Committee members to be elected total 13. In case where a single county comprises a state senatorial district, one man and one woman representative are named. Where a district extends beyond one county, one member is elected in each county.

Lackawanna has the unusual situation of two prominent women battling bitterly for committee assignments. Mrs. Worthington Scranton, national committeewoman, seeks re-election to her state post, vigorously opposed by Miss Hazel Davies, high school teacher and a registration. Commissioner during the first Pinchot regime, election reminiscence of general election political faiths fought it out with mud at a premium, the campaigners of the two women have sparkled with sharp exchanges of verbal fire. Mrs. Scranton's attacks are aimed primarily at Governor Pinchot, with whom she charges all opposition to her had its inception. The result has been a division of Lackawanna's Republican councils with respect to the two women's candidacies.

of the distraught father that he be permitted to negotiate with the kidnapers.

The first letter which arrived shortly after the child was abducted read "We have kidnapped your child. If you notify the police or newspapers we will kill your child. Otherwise await further instructions."

Another letter arrived at the Wilmington home of the Brodsky family early this morning and although desperate efforts were made by the family to keep its contents secret it is reported that it contained ransom terms. The letter was mailed in New York City and was sent special delivery.

The family has refused to cooperate with the police but Mayor Frank Sparks of Wilmington, a neighbor of the Brodskys immediately ordered the Wilmington police force to bend every effort to capture the kidnapers.

WILMINGTON, Del., April 16.—Hilda Brodsky, 9-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brodsky was believed to be still in the hands of kidnapers today.

Brodsky, a wealthy merchant, refused to permit police to enter the case. He was believed to have been warned in a ransom note from the kidnapers not to call on the police if he wanted to see his child returned safely.

Refuses Information.
Friends believed he was already in negotiation with the abductors. Brodsky absolutely declined to give information either to newspapermen or the police about the case.

Hilda was believed by friends of the Brodsky family to have been snatched by kidnapers as she was on her way to school yesterday.

Harry Rubenstein, attorney, acting for Brodsky, notified a local newspaper that the story of the kidnapping printed was "only a rumor" that there "is no basis for the rumor" and that Brodsky "wanted nothing printed about the matter."

Police Enter Case.
WILMINGTON, Del., April 16.—Despite the desperate plea of Harold Brodsky whose nine year old daughter Hilda was kidnapped yesterday morning while on her way to school, to let him negotiate with the abductors police of Wilmington and Philadelphia were instituting a grim search today which if successful will result in the hanging of the kidnapers.

Delaware is one of the few states where kidnapping is a capital offense and the knowledge that capture will mean death has prompted the Brodsky family, frantic with fear for the child's safety, to ask police to give them a free hand in dealing with the kidnapers who sent a letter to Brodsky telling him that police interference will mean death to the child.

WILMINGTON, Del., April 16.—Hilda Brodsky, 9, who was kidnapped here yesterday, is slender and of a highly nervous temperament. She has blue eyes and light brown hair. At the time of her disappearance, she was wearing a blue chinchilla coat, blue angora beret, blue dress, and black shoes and black stockings.

Young Opposed To Inflation Plan

Owen D. Young Opposes Plan To Print Money For Soldiers' Bonus

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 16.—An increase in the money volume of the country is essential to boost commodity prices, Owen D. Young, chairman of the General Electric Co., said in a telegram made public today by Rep. Patman (D) of Texas, advocate of the payment of the $2,400,000,000 World War veterans bonus.

Young expressed sympathy with the proposal for pre-payment of veterans certificates before their due date in 1945, but opposed the printing and distribution of money to pay them. His telegram read: "My answer is first sympathetic as I have always been toward prepayment of adjusted service certificates to meet the needs of veterans. 'I believe now that it is impossible to increase the budget of the United States by $2,000,000,000 to meet such payment and that an attempt to do so would be injurious to the general welfare. 'Second, while I believe an increase in our money volume, which includes bank credit as well as currency, is essential to increase our commodity prices and therefore highly desirable, I do not think the printing of money and the distribution of it in payment of service certificates is the sound and helpful way to increase our money volume.'

about the matter. "It burned." Spectators nevertheless clung to persistent conviction the mysterious white light portended a more mysterious development in the hunt for the abductors of Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr., aged 21 months, who was stolen from his nursery March 1.

Observers were inclined to place significance in the occurrence especially because it was known that Colonel Henry Breckinridge, Lindbergh's legal adviser, kept up a lonely vigil in the home of Dr. John P. Condon, in New York city, far into the night.

It was believed that he expected some message by telephone or agent from the kidnapers with whom either he or Condon, the signer of the famous "Jasie" advertisements which led to the payment of the $50,000 ransom, had re-established contact, according to reports.

Breckinridge left the home of the aged lecturer at Fordham University several times in the course of the afternoon and evening yesterday. On a trip started just before midnight, he was accompanied by an unidentified woman.

Condon Absent.
Condon himself was absent almost all the time while Breckinridge was at his home. He and his bodyguard, Al Reich ex-pugilist, went out the last time about midnight and did not return until early today.

Great mystery was also thrown about the visit to the Lindbergh home shortly before the flare lit up the countryside, of Miss Greta Grey, Minneapolis.

After emerging from the Lindbergh home where she spent about 45 minutes, she told newspapermen she gave Lindbergh some "important information."

All these happenings seemed to intensify the tension created by the belief the heightened activities of the principals in the kidnap pursuit indicated a "break" was near.

Bolstering this feeling also were reports from Norfolk, Va., where the three intermediaries of Lindbergh gave indication their phase of the negotiations with the abductors had reached a final stage.

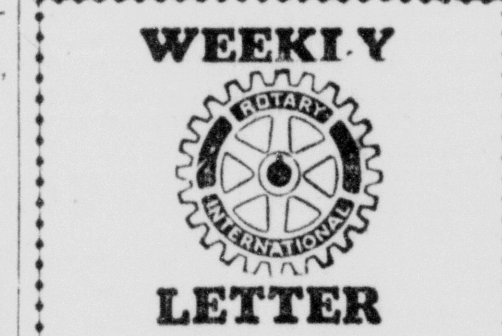

"Baby Alive And Well."
The Rev. H. Dobson-Peacock, with John H. Curtis, boat builder and Read Admiral Guy H. Burrage composing the trio of emissaries, refused to add to his statement that the "baby was alive and well," pleading secrecy was necessary to carry on the work of contracting the kidnapers.

Mrs. Isabelle Ladame, nurse, was to arrive in Hopewell today for questioning. She was examined by police at York, Pa., after she sent a telegram to Lindbergh.

She asserted she overheard a conversation on a boat between Norfolk and Baltimore which related to the kidnaping.

Police were impressed by her story and arranged to have her come to Hopewell.

Major Charles H. Schoeffel, Schwarzkopf's deputy who has been abroad in connection with the case, was ordered to return. He communicated with his superior through the state department at Washington, but the nature of his report was not disclosed.

False Issues

Lacking a legitimate issue in a campaign, it is not uncommon for politicians to manufacture one. Feeble though it may be, it sometimes has the effect of turning unthinking voters. This campaign is not without its false issues. One of the whispered charges made is that my labor record in the General Assembly has been an unfair one. The statements have been answered until now. Here is the answer, made by Labor itself. The Co-Operative Legislative Board of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen has just issued its biennial statement upon candidates for the General Assembly. For Lawrence County, First District it says, "Richards, Bart: (Rep.), Reporter, member 1927 to 1931 inclusive. Has a very good labor record and is endorsed by the board." No other candidate for the General Assembly in New Castle was endorsed. The endorsement is signed by G. B. Rowand, chairman, M. W. McCarty, secretary, and Edith Landis, chairman for the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

Another false issue which has been raised is that Lawrence County gets no Federal Aid money for roads this year. Of course it doesn't. Every foot of Federal highway in Lawrence County is already paved. Federal highways are designated by the Federal Highway Department and not by the State of Pennsylvania. Federal aid money is for construction only and not for maintenance. Hence to make such a statement displays either a gross ignorance of the facts, or a deliberate intent to mislead. As to state money for highways, Lawrence County has been well taken care of.

Thinking voters will not be misled by false issues raised at this late date.

DEPRESSION IS DECREASING DIVORCES

WE have the authority of Dr. Alfred Cahen for the statement that divorces in the United States have declined during the last two years as a result of the economic depression. In 1929 they totaled 201,468; and in that year it is claimed that a divorce was granted every two minutes in some part of the country. Dr. Cahen, who has published his statistical study through the Columbia University Press, says that the decline in 1930 was 10,000 cases. The figures for last year are not complete. At all events, about one marriage out of every six in this country ends in the divorce courts. The United States boasts of having the highest divorce rate in the world. Dr. Cahen does not think the ratio of decrease is going to continue. As soon as prosperity returns the desire for divorces will come back. Indeed he predicts that at the present rate, by the year 1965 no less than 51 per cent. of American marriages will end with divorce.

If this view be accepted, many persons will wonder why we should continue with the marriage ceremony at all. Yet the 49 per cent. are entitled to consideration. They may be the saving remnant to lead us back to sanity and right living. One significant fact about these statistics is that only eight per cent. of American married couples having children are divorced, while 71 per cent. of the childless marriages end in the courts. In other words, children preserve the home. There is a moral in this that scarcely needs to be dwelt upon. It is a pity that the problem of divorce is so often treated flippantly and that so many persons are losing all sense of the sacredness of marriage.

The home is one of the foundation stones of the Nation. If that be destroyed we may well fear for the stability of the Republic.

REFORESTATION DEFIES DEPRESSION

A shipment of 7,000,000 seedlings and replants from the four State nurseries indicates that the business depression is having little effect on reforestation. Although applications from mining, water and power companies have fallen off slightly, private land owners, principally farmers, are keeping the spring total up to a high figure. Municipalities are also among the leaders.

The cheering feature of this news is that the tree planters are looking beyond the present emergency. They are building for the future. While much of the present constructive activity in other lines must necessarily be of a character designed for temporary relief, the need for permanent planning must not be neglected. Preparedness for prosperity is evident in the Pennsylvania reforestation movement.

OVERCROWDED PRISONS

Extension of federal prison facilities, undertaken several months ago, having yet brought no relief from the overcrowded conditions prevailing in federal penal institutions, the bureau of prisons has turned to the prison camps for temporary relief.

From the Atlanta penitentiary 550 prisoners will be transferred to Fort Bragg, N. C., and Maxwell Field, Ala. Camp Lee, in Virginia, will take care of the overflow from the federal industrial reformatory at Chillicothe, O. It will be recommended to federal judges that they commit older men who are not likely to attempt escape to Camp Eustis, also in Virginia.

The prison camp program has not yet been extended to give relief to Leavenworth, Kan., or McNeil Island, Wash. In the former there are 4917 prisoners.

Other benefits that will accrue from this wider use of prison camps are the further segregation of the first offender from the hardened criminal and the employment of thousands of men in healthful occupations out-of-doors.

The government in the federal penitentiaries is not treating with the same type of man with which the state and county prisons must contend. Due to the different character of most of the offenses in the federal criminal code, a majority of the inmates of the federal prisons are what is known as "law-breakers" rather than criminals. They are not the type who make the same mistake twice or who have ever led lives of crime. This fact permits a more general use of prison camps by the federal government.

GOLDEN ADVERTISING EGGS

In the defense of advertising in good times and hard Gilbert T. Hodges, president of the Advertising Federation of America, has made out a good case. He does not ask business, which has reasons enough to be hardbodied, to take the word of an advertising man for it but has a convincing array of figures and specific instances of business gains in depressions to prove his statements.

Advertising campaigns that were not curtailed because of the depression sold a million gas and electric refrigerators last year. A manufacturer of oil burners increased his advertising in 1930 and increased his sales 56 per cent. Another increase in advertising in 1931 resulted in another sales jump of 37 per cent.

Records kept of the business and advertising programs of 120 American corporations over a period of 17 years furnish some conclusive proof of the folly of cutting advertising appropriations when business tightens up.

Sixty of these corporations did not relax their merchandising efforts for one instant during the 17 years. In each of the 17 years their advertising expenditures were increased an average of 16 per cent. With what results?

Seventeen years ago many of them were small, struggling merchants or manufacturers. Today every one of them is numbered among the foremost business houses of the United States. They have multiplied their assets four times and their combined net profits last year were three times those of 1915.

All Of Us

Just Imagine!
Imagination Blesses
And It Curses

By MARSHALL MASLIN
Imagination can be a blessing and it can be a curse.

A man may sit in a little room, all alone, and be carried by imagination to every corner of this world, into a thousand hearts, to the rarefied edges of the universe.

He can imagine illness, and make his pulse race madly; imagine health and courage, and do deeds that would have made Hercules pale; imagine misery, and feel the hot tears streak down his cheeks.

Without imagination a man obeys only his own impulses. He goes ruthlessly on his way, knowing nothing of other men. Jostles them, pushes them aside, tramples them, and cannot understand their grievances against him. When he, in turn, is down he means in his bewilderment and thinks that all life and all men have a grudge against him. He then is a pathetic spectacle; and, having no imagination, he does not know he was the digger of his own abyss.

With great imagination great deeds are done, great ills are accomplished. A Napoleon conquers a continent, a Paderewski conquers a piano, a strong man conquers himself, a weak man sits in his little room and day-dreams power and beauty and life away.

Imagination, makes a man say of some miserable, less fortunate mortal, "There, but for the grace of God, go I." Checks his contempt. Tempers his anger. Restrains his madness. Saves him, in the end, from wild foolishness and silly extravagance. The day-dream is an undisciplined wisp that blows with the vagrant wind. The true imagination is the good fairy that eases pain and defeats disease and lays down railroads and rivets great buildings and lifts man into the use of his own great hidden powers.

Lightly we say to one another, "Just imagine!" Seriously we might say, "We go nowhere unless we can imagine the land that is our goal, the life we would gladly enjoy." We must imagine!

TALKING IT OVER
Were they so much of comfort after all

That we should even shed one silly tear
For some lost pleasure and the glittering ball
And all the gaudy glamour of the year?

We lived almost as strangers to ourselves
And never knew what books were on our shelves.

The loss has come. What is it we have lost?
For one thing weariness with all its pain;
Some lavish splendor, scarcely worth its cost.

And won the right to be ourselves again.
Tonight we're playing checkers. You and I Have had enjoyment money didn't buy!

I'm sure the neighbors oftener stop to call.
The youngsters gather here to dance and sing.
What if these rooms we occupy seem small?

More happiness the larger didn't bring.
We've lost the right in luxury to roam.
And found a truer pleasure here at home.

We often hear of unemployment insurance and that naturally brings up the question as to who will pay the premiums for such a thing. Conferences On Economy Believed To Promise Gains

Country Holds Valuable Basis For Future Budgets May Be Established Through Intensive Study Of Existing Conditions

Conferences between Congressional committees and the President are expected by the country to point the way toward a more economical administration of government affairs in the future. The necessity of approaching the task in a non-partisan spirit is emphasized, while the difficulty of escaping the pressure of special groups is recognized.

"The conference may, at least, be deemed as a turning point," says the ROANOKE WORLD-NEWS, pointing out that "for 10 years government expenditures have mounted steadily, and at an alarming rate," but holding that "even if no great reduction is now brought about, it is apparent that the era of increases is over." The World-News advises: "Many of the cuts proposed at the conference will not actually be made. The interests affected will be quick to protest, to set up argument and persuasion, and to start a back fire in the home district of any Congressman who advocates them. Each item has its advocates, and no perquisites will be willingly surrendered."

A fairly sensational start has been made by the President and his conferees," according to the RUTLAND HERALD, referring to "a mere matter of $100,000,000" as "just a beginning" of the general plan. The Herald offers the opinion: "Beginning with the President, Vice President, members of the cabinet and of Congress, salary cuts are projected that are unique in political history, while the proposals for a five-day week, staggered em-ployment for salaried employees, retirement of supernumerary employees, no Saturday half-holidays and extra pay for over-time to be abolished will undoubtedly result in a terrific protest from those most hurt thereby, yet that sort of thing has been deemed necessary by thousands of employers."

Quoting a statement by Senator Smoot that the budget will be balanced "with the least burden on business and the people of the country," the CHICAGO TRIBUNE offers the comment on its relation to the economy efforts which are under way: "Mr. Smoot's formula, if it is to be effective, must be translated in terms of economy rather than of new taxes. If that is done, his conversation will be of great, even epochal, importance to the country, for it will signalize the acceptance in Washington of the fact that budgets can be balanced as well by reducing costs as by increasing taxes. How difficult it is for politicians to slash the appropriation is indicated by the limited accomplishment of the Hoover congressional conference on economies. After weeks of intensive demand for relief from all corners of the United States, congress and the executive finally put their heads together and worked out a program of savings. What they will amount to, if adopted, is still to be determined, but probably $200,000,000 is the most that can be expected under the present scheme. That sum is less than 5 per cent of the present annual outlay of the federal government. As a start that is something, but the taxpayers will not be content with so small a reduction. If Mr. Smoot's statement can be read as a pledge of much more substantial reductions the country has reason for satisfaction. Meanwhile, taxpayers will be well advised to continue their pressure for genuine unremittingly."

Considering the matter in its relation to the defeat of the sales tax, the BOSTON HERALD says of the present effort: "The very failure to provide sufficient revenue has become the occasion of the federal government. As a start that is something, but the taxpayers will not be content with so small a reduction. If Mr. Smoot's statement can be read as a pledge of much more substantial reductions the country has reason for satisfaction. Meanwhile, taxpayers will be well advised to continue their pressure for genuine unremittingly."

Eliminate The Unworthy
Edward L. Thorndike, a Professor in the Teacher's College at Columbia University, said recently in a Chicago speech:

"Zeal to increase the amount of schooling in our country has been one of America's idealisms. Such zeal should be preserved, but with it should be zeal to distribute education so that those who have most will use it best.

"We need laws to prevent greedy or perverse parents from depriving gifted children of schooling—not laws to force them to keep in school children who have neither the ability nor the interest to profit thereby.

"The passion for equalization, which had a certain nobility when a large percentage of children barely learned to read and write, becomes now almost ridiculous, when the question is of spending our resources to keep in school boys of 16, 17 and 18 who would be happier and more useful at work or play."

In Switzerland boys and girls are not permitted to enter High School until the grammar schools unless fitted by reason of grades made and capabilities shown, but are switched off into trade schools or are put to work. Neither may a graduate of the High School enter the University unless the Head Master recommends him or her as being worthy of the highest book, classroom and laboratory education.

The results thus far achieved, in the judgment of the KANSAS CITY TIMES, "realize a determination on the part of the conferees to make a big reduction in government costs. This is a national demand, opposed only by groups, as they are directly affected. The suggestion that the program shall be presented to congress in two measures instead of numerous bills is based on sound reasoning. The situation demands sweeping and inclusive treatment. The hearings would be interminable and the final results doubtful if each proposed reduction or modification should be passed on separately. Lumped in one or at most two bills, national sentiment would have a powerful bearing."

Giving attention to the effect of the proposals on the work of the government departments and the employees the WASHINGTON EVENING STAR, states: "If their work is to be restricted by cuts in appropriations, the heads of departments should be given authority to 'spread'

Trout fishermen did not have much success on the opening of the season in Lawrence county, according to reports received from various anglers. In fact it was explained today by anglers that the high water, and snow water kept trout from biting.

Fishermen report having espied many fish and it is reported that unless it grows warmer and the water becomes lower, fishing won't be so successful for the next few days.

Among those who caught trout, however, were Bill Reynolds, deputy sheriff, Joe Hunter and Len Noggle. They got nine in Taylor Run.

Nine other trout were taken from Taylor Run by Charles Withers, Andy Dodds, George Brown and Frank Williams.

One of the trout caught by Williams was 13 inches in length, according to reports.

New Castle Night On KDKA Monday

Westinghouse Parade To Make Imaginary Journey To City

BART RICHARDS

New Castle will be "on the air" Monday evening, April 18, at 6:15 o'clock, when station KDKA, Pittsburgh, will broadcast a salute to New Castle. The program will be similar in character to those broadcast in the past few weeks, in which other cities in the tri-state district have been so honored.

The Westinghouse parade, for such is the nature of the program, consists of an imaginary parade over the radio from the Pennsylvania railroad station, down Washington street, headed by William A. Farren, master of ceremonies. The Westinghouse band, headed by Major T. J. Vastine, will play a program of march numbers and midway in the program Bart Richards will be the guest speaker, speaking on "The City of New Castle."

The Westinghouse band is the oldest radio band in the United States. Under Major Vastine's direction it was the first band ever to broadcast and since the birth of radio has been broadcasting programs to the four corners of the earth from station KDKA.

The band specializes in stirring band numbers and the "Salute to New Castle" will find a host of rhythmic melodies listed. The time of the "salute" is 6:15 o'clock Monday evening, April 18, from station KDKA. The program will continue for 30 minutes.

Sentence Sermons

By Rev. Roy L. Smith, D. D.

YOU WILL DISCOVER

That counting your blessings keeps your mind off your troubles.

That the workers are too busy to spend time pitying themselves.

That we need bad weather to be able to appreciate good weather.

That no man has enemies who thinks every man is his friend.

That the world rewards those who forget themselves.

That more things are accomplished by patience than by bluster.

That the world does not belong to the man who makes the most noise.

Americanism: Maligning and ridiculing public servants; wondering why the country's best men won't offer their service.

Another consoling thought is that racketeers soon won't have anybody to rob except one another.

Clarence Ferree Eagerly Awaits Funds Needed

As The Fund To Send Him To Mt. Clemens Increases, He Becomes More Cheerful

Clarence Ferree, crippled salesman of newspapers and magazines at the city building corner is eagerly awaiting the accumulation of sufficient funds with which he hopes to go to Mt. Clemens, Michigan, and get the opportunity of taking the baths, which will give him a return of the use of his legs, which have been stiffening up on him considerably of late. In fact they have been stiffening up to such an extent that it has rendered him almost helpless at times.

He has faith that the people of the city, who can, will give him sufficient funds to make the trip to Mt. Clemens and make the effort to regain his health, at least to a limited extent. The funds on hand are now announced approximately $104. He needs at least $200. It is necessary that this goal be reached soon, if he is to gain any benefit from the treatments.

Those who feel that they can help along this most worthy cause should make their gift to Clarence as soon as possible. Every cent received is placed in the bank to be used for that purpose alone.

Three Associates
Of Late Kreuger
Are In Custody

Police Find $100,000,000 In Forged Italian Bonds In Kreuger's Safe

(International News Service)
STOCKHOLM, April 16.—Three associates of the late Ivar Kreuger under arrest on charges of having aided the Swedish match king in falsifying balance sheets of the Kreuger and Toll company were to appear before an examining magistrate today.

The three were arrested here last night after a meeting of the official investigating committee probing the books of the Kreuger interests. The committee last week had announced the Kreuger and toll balance sheet of Dec. 31, 1930, had "grossly misrepresented" the true financial condition of the company.

Find Forged Bonds
The committee said last night it had discovered more than $100,000,000 in forged Italian bonds in the safes of the Kreuger and Toll company, while police said copper plates from which the forged bonds were printed had been found in a private safe of Kreuger.

It was claimed there was ample evidence that Kreuger himself had ordered the forged bonds to be included in the company's balance for 1931.

The men arrested were Karl Lange, an auditor for Kreuger and a director and accountant of the Garanta Company of Amsterdam; Sven Hult, an inspector for Kreuger and a director of the Nedervian-ska bank for Scandinavian commerce, Amsterdam, and Victor Holm former Swedish postal official described as a secret representative for several of the affiliated Kreuger companies.

What 'Good Old Days' Did To Folks

Spring Is Tuning Up Time
For Body, Says Dr.
Clendenning

By LOGAN CLENDENNING, M. D.
Modern civilization has nearly spoiled the good habit of getting one's system tuned up in the spring. It was fine hygiene in the old days. They had good, old-fashioned winters then. And no traveling down to Florida or California for the sunshine. When winter snowed our grandparents in, they stayed snowed in. They ate what they had in the house, and coffee, and corn meal. As they watched their hands getting scurried and their gums getting sorer, and their legs getting weaker, they would say to each other, "We'll be lots better when the roads clear and we can get down and get us some moss in the slough."

And it was good psychology. When they unweaved pap out of his winter underwear they brought him the bathtub full of steaming hot water and the soft soap, and he got all cleaned up outside, and they gave him sulphur and sarsaparilla and the castor oil, and he got all cleaned up inside, and his teeth began to get solid in his jaws. It had a good effect on his disposition.

He said to himself, "That's the end of that. Winter is over. I'm starting out new. This is a new season beginning. I believe I'll clear out that east lot and put her into pasture."

People need these milestones in life. We're so constituted that we have to have a place to begin to do some new work and to make an effort to improve ourselves. That's why I believe the old observance of spring toning should be kept up. April is one of the few times it is safe to take a good dose of castor oil. And then take a tablespoon of wahoo bark and wild yam juice twice a day for a week.

Modern civilization, as I say, has just about robbed us of this pleasure of spring again-beginning. The railroads and the refrigeration companies and other industries fix it so we can have fresh food all winter long. Fresh milk and oranges and fresh bread and butter. Modern furnaces and water heaters have fixed it so we can bathe during the worst cold spells. And the earth seems to be tipping on its axis so that the temperature hardly ever gets below 60 and there is plenty of sunshine through what used to be the dark days.

Still spring is spring, and now is the time to get into shape for a vigorous, prosperous summer. Get that old snag of a tooth out that's been bothering you. Take a few days' vigorous exercise and lose that extra five pounds you put on while you were hibernating. Get your wind back. Play your first 18 holes and then take a massage and a steam bath to get the soreness out. Go on a fruit and vegetable diet for a week. It's spring. You owe something to Hygieia.

Editor's Note: Six pamphlets by Dr. Clendenning can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each and a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Logan Clendenning, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Indigestion and Constipation", "Reducing and Gaining", "Infant Feeding", "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes", "Femine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin".

Business Girls Find Recreation At Y. W. C. A.

Business girls have always appreciated the benefit of the Y. W. C. A. and have felt a responsibility for its support. Most business girls come to the Y. W. C. A. to find friends and having found them remain to help other girls make friends. Some accomplish this thru business girls clubs with programs designed to give development thru self initiated programs and a study of the problems which affect them individually and in groups.

In New Castle there are two business girls clubs in the Y. W. C. A. one the Blue Triangle Club with Miss Jessie Jenkins as president and the other the Square Circle with Miss Helen Fisco as president. Each of these clubs is represented on a Business and Professional committee of which Miss Marian Wallace is chairman.

Where joint activities as the annual Nation Wide banquet for business and professional women are sponsored both groups work with and Mrs. J. W. Humphrey on Sunday.

Over $4,000,000 In Federal Aid State Road Fund

Sixty Six Miles Are Approved For Construction In State

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent Of The New Castle News
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 16.—Pennsylvania, on the first day of the present month, had in her federal-aid highway fund a balance of $4,234,834.04 available for new road projects, the Bureau of Public Roads reports.

On the first day of the month, 3,612.6 miles of federal-aid highway had been completed in Pennsylvania, 45.3 miles were under construction, and 66.5 miles had been approved for construction.

The estimated total cost of the 45.3 miles under improvement was reported as $1,905,186, with $773,276 of this amount allotted by the federal government and the remainder to be paid by the state.

The 66.5 miles approved for construction will be improved under an estimated expenditure of $2,200,751. Of this sum, $936,470 has been contributed by Uncle Sam and the balance will come from state vaults.

The $4,234,834.04 balance in the Pennsylvania federal-aid fund on April first represented money to be used for new projects, the federal government's share of the cost of the road under construction and approved for improvement having been already deducted.

Pauletta's Sentence Stands Commuted To Life Imprisonment

Governor William Conley, West Virginia, Grants Appeal In Behalf Of Slayer

(International News Service)
CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 16.—Frank Pauletta, Coverdale, Pa., miner who escaped the noose by breaking jail in 1914, was saved from a hanging 18 years later by Governor William Conley Friday.

Pauletta's sentence was commuted to life imprisonment. The prisoner was convicted in 1914 of murdering Frank Gliberti of Harrison county, W. Va.

Pauletta was to have been hanged one week from tonight, April 22. In commuting the sentence the governor stated that the greater clemency is not justified. "The public generally is laboring under the false impression that Pauletta has lived a model life during the period he has been at large," he said.

"The investigation shows that he has not lived up to the reputation given him by the press and some of the persons who interceded in his behalf," Governor Conley added.

Pauletta's long period of liberty was brought to an abrupt end when he was rearrested at Coverdale a few months ago. A new date for his execution was immediately set.

Man changes little. The first prohibition law was broken by the first of mortals.

LOOKING BACK IN NEW CASTLE

Isaiah F. Frazier of 1007 Beckford street, is the possessor of some receipts issued to his father shortly after the close of the civil war, which indicates that the people of those times had to pay certain revenue taxes, such as are proposed today in order to balance the budget of this country. One of these receipts was issued in New Brighton in 1865. It represents a payment on a debt contracted by George Frazier, father of the present owner. It has a two cent internal revenue stamp on it. The other two were made in 1867 and 1868 respectively. The money paid and for which the receipts were issued were in payment on a farm purchased by George Frazier. That issued in 1867 has a five cent internal revenue stamp on it, the other a two cent internal revenue stamp. A remarkable feature of the receipts is the fact that the writing was excellent and their state of preservation is remarkable considering the number of years that they have been in existence. Mr. Frazier states that he has been advised that the stamps on these receipts are quite valuable. Mr. Frazier is a long time resident of the district and has read The News for many years, in fact from the time that it was first printed.

Mayor's Dog Order Brings Attention Of Anonymous Writer

Mayor Charles B. Mayne has become rather accustomed to receiving anonymous letters from persons, who think they have a grievance, but who in reality have none and do not have the courage of their written convictions, to sign their name. Usually they are consigned immediately to the waste basket, due to the fact that the lack of a signature, indicates, that they are not worthy of consideration.

But there is one just received, which the mayor did not choose to overlook, because of the fact that it deals with the subject of dogs, in which the mayor has always had a keen interest and in view of the cowardly attack made, thought it was due for an answer.

It deals with the subject of dogs running at large and the fact that the mayor has announced that dogs allowed to run at large on the gardens of the unfortunate people of this city would be shot.

The mayor's answer follows:—"This is the only way such a person can take, who does not have the 'guts' to sign his name. Why I've had more dogs worth more dollars close friends than own dogs? Did you ever own a dog or do you now? If you ever have I don't think that a man of your standing would make such a statement.

Why do people of your city pay the state to get licenses for their dogs? If it were not to give the dogs more freedom, I don't believe that people would pay out their hard earned money to have their dog killed; anyone with common sense knows that much.

I think that you "will profit more by letting the gardeners take care of putting dogs out of their gardens, and also if you would give a little more thought on more important matters."

Japan's constant attempt to save her face serves merely to remind the rest of the world that most of that face is cheek.—The Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Distribution of Funds Under The Federal Highway Act

Lawrence County tax payers and voters may be interested in the extent to which they will benefit under the Federal Highway Act during the ensuing year, 1932.

Federal funds to the amount of $4,640,667 are available to Pennsylvania for the development of primary and secondary roads in the State highway system. The Pennsylvania State Highway Department has added to this sum a sufficient amount to make $10,500,000 to be expended in the improvement of Federal aid highways. As the work progresses the $4,640,667 will be paid from the Federal Treasury to reimburse the Department.

It is interesting to note the way in which these funds have been allocated. The term "gerrymander" is quite appropriate in describing the method used by Governor Pinchot to favor certain sections of the State at the expense of other districts equally entitled to consideration.

By statement recently published by the Secretary of Highways, it appears that the 15th Congressional District, comprising the Counties of Bradford, Pike, Susquehanna, Wayne, Columbia, Montour, and Sullivan will receive 87.33 miles of improved highway, at an estimated cost of $31,818.18 per mile. This means that the 15th Congressional District will benefit by a total expenditure of $2,778,681.65 used for labor and materials, which is 26.36% of the total sum. Only 35 counties of the 67 in Pennsylvania are included in this distribution of State and Federal funds. What reason can be assigned for ignoring the needs of the remaining 32 Counties, of which Lawrence County is one?

The 15th Congressional District receives more than one-fourth of the entire appropriation. Why? THE WIFE OF GOVERNOR PINCHOT IS A CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS FROM THE 15th DISTRICT. IS THIS A MERE COINCIDENCE?

The citizens of Lawrence County cannot accept with equanimity the obviously unfair distribution of public funds as disclosed in this instance.

Under the Federal Highway Act any State through its State Highway Department can select and designate as Federal aid highways, a system of highways not to exceed 7% of the total highway mileage of such state.

Pennsylvania has not yet designated its full quota of 7% of its highway mileage. Pennsylvania is entitled to designate 6,300 miles, but as yet there are only improved as Federal aid highways, about 2,800 miles.

Lawrence County has three highways that are properly Federal aid roads, being interstate in character and are unimproved; the road leading from Pulaski to New Bedford, the road leading from Edenburg to the Pennsylvania-Ohio State Line, known as the Ben Franklin Highway, and the road leading from Enon Valley to the Pennsylvania-Ohio State Line, which has been partly improved under the recent Act of Assembly, but is not a concrete road.

Governor Pinchot has in all his political campaigns held himself out to the public as the political and spiritual heir of Roosevelt, and frequently uses the term "square deal" in appealing for public support.

May it be out of place to inquire how he applied his policy of giving a "square deal" to the public in so far as it affects Lawrence County, and 31 other Counties of the State in the apportionment of this large sum of money?

The tables of the Department of Labor & Industry, upon which the funds appropriated under the Taft Bill (passed over Pinchot's opposition) are allocated, discloses that the ratio of unemployment in Lawrence County exceeds that of most of the Counties of the State.

If Governor Pinchot is sincerely trying to relieve unemployment conditions in the State, why would it not have been better to have appropriated a reasonable amount of this Federal aid fund to Lawrence County to relieve the unemployment, rather than to allocate so large an amount to the 15th Congressional District? It may be that he could not ignore the political ambitions of the family. Why should Lawrence County voters support Pinchot's candidates?

Cast-Offs Are Hitting Well

Big League Cast-Offs Have Held Spotlight In First Week Of Season

WILSON HITS HIS FIRST HOME RUN

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 16.—The first week of the baseball season has been a gala one for the cast-offs—big leaguers who figured in the winter's numerous deals.

Hack Wilson, former home run king passed along to Brooklyn by the Cubs and Cardinals, hit his first homer for Brooklyn yesterday. Stripp and Cuccinello, infielders obtained from Cincinnati, have laced out seven hits between them in two games with the Dodgers.

Wilson Hits Homer.
The batting of this trio helped Lefty Clark, Brooklyn's star southpaw, to beat Boston yesterday, 8 to 2. And Old George Kelly got his first hit as a Dodger.

The Chicago White Sox have had even better luck. Sad Sam Jones and Bump Hadley, who came to Chicago from Washington, each have won a game for the Sox with the aid of some powerful batting by Carey Selph, the former St. Louis Cardinal farm hand, who came up in the draft.

Selph, who wanted to sell insurance this year and had to be coaxed to join the Sox, has batted .444 in his first four games. His three doubles enabled Jones to beat the Browns in the opener, and his third hit of the day enabled Hadley to win a 4 to 3 duel from Blacholder of the Browns in thirteen innings yesterday, the longest game of the season to date.

Senators On Top.
The unbeaten Washington Senators stayed at the front of the American League parade by annexing their third straight victory from the Boston Red Sox, 2 to 0. Monte Weaver, ex-collegian from Baltimore, made a brilliant debut in the majors by holding Boston to four scattered singles. He had to be good to beat Old Lisbenbee.

The Yankees played like bush leaguers in losing a 9 to 8 slugfest to the Athletics. New York made three mechanical errors and numerous mental ones. Fox, Coker and Gehrig hit homers. With 29 players seeing action, the box score looked like a telephone directory.

Phils Beat Giants.
Don Hurst, Philly first sacker who thinks he can't hit southpaws because he swings from the port side of the plate, drilled Lefty Hubbel for a homer with the bases full in the eighth to give the Quakers a 7 to 6 win over the Giants. The amazing Phils lead the National League while the highly touted New Yorkers have yet to win a game.

Shelacking five St. Louis pitchers and scoring seven runs in a fourth-inning rally, the Pirates downed the champion Cardinals, 9 to 7, squaring the series. Ripper Collins led the Cards at bat with four hits, including a homer.

Rookie Pasted.
Cincinnati started Wally Hilcher, a rookie hurler, against the Cubs and he lasted only three innings, the Cubs winning 8 to 2 and evening the series. Old Boss Stephenson took hitting laurels with three doubles, while Warneke's effective hurling earned him a starting berth with the Bruins.

Karl Whitehill, Detroit veteran, held Cleveland to three hits but it took football tactics by Joiner White, a rookie, to insure a 3 to 2 win for the Tigers. While White was knocking Johnny Hodapp down on a force play at second, Rogell scored the winning run for Detroit in the ninth.

Mushball League Meeting Monday

New Castle mushball league members will have a meeting at the "Y" Monday night at 8:30 o'clock for the purpose of reorganizing. All teams who held franchises last year and any new teams are asked to attend. Last season the Lockleys won the league title after a spirited battle with the Cancos. The Marcellas won the B title but lost to the Lockleys for the championship.

Twelve Teams In Twilight League

Season Will Open Sometime During First Week In May, Says Caiazza

ALL SECTIONS OF COUNTY HAVE TEAMS

Twelve teams have taken out franchises in the newly created Twilight League of young baseball players, according to an announcement by Tully Caiazza, president of the league. A meeting was held last night at the Sears, Roebuck store with about 60 young enthusiasts, baseball players, managers and officials present.

The following teams took out franchises last night—Hillsville, Ryantown, Malizias, Volant, Mahoning A. A. Soda Jerkers, West Side Civics, South Hills, East New Castle Merchants, West Pittsburg. Two other teams the Elder A. C. and DeHart A. C. will no doubt have their franchise money ready by next Tuesday when another meeting will be held.

It is hoped that a fast twelve team league will be started. The opening date is the week of May 2. The matter of drawing up a schedule was taken up for discussion. Umpires were also discussed. Nick Navarra of Hillsville was elected a commissioner in the league to represent the Hillsville district teams. The outlook for a successful season is good. The league is able to play on the Lawrence county League teams.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 16.—The Duquesne university football clinic arranged by Elmer F. Layden, head coach and director of athletics, will be held on the campus May 6. The clinic will get under way at 3 o'clock with a discussion of the new grid rules. A game will follow and demonstration decisions will conclude the afternoon events.

Coach Layden has emphasized the fact that all coaches are welcome and that the clinic is free. While efforts are being made to reach all coaches with formal invitations, Coach Layden declares that if any should be missed in mailing such communications it must not be felt that they are not to attend.

A dinner at the Keystone club will follow the afternoon program. Reservations should be sent in early. The dinner cost will be small and otherwise, the affair is absolutely free. Prominent speakers will be on hand.

Several New Castle boys will participate in the football clinic. Ben Ciccone, varsity center, and Nick DeCarbo, varsity guard, are the only Bridenbaugh delegates on the Duquesne university football team. Frank Stanish, freshman candidate of Bessemer, and Paul Quinn of New Castle are the other New Castle boys that will help to perform during the clinic. The football clinic will close the spring training activities on the bluff.

Central Press Sports Writer
Walter Johnson's popularity, always of proper proportions, ought to swell to even greater size now. That's because Walter refuses to succumb to comeback fever.

With the sport world crowded with doddering and decrepit ball players, boxers, wrestlers, runners, jumpers and other ex-athletes, it is refreshing to hear Walter say he won't try to kid the public or himself that he is as good as he used to be.

"I'm manager of the Washington team," says Walter, in effect, "and that's a plenty big enough job. I used to be a pitcher, but no more mound stuff for this boy."

Yes, sir, pitching is strictly past tense with the one-time Big Train and he is determined to make it stay that way.

Walter has always been noted for the ability to use his cranium for something besides stuffing for a baseball monkey cap. As fussy as they come in his playing days, it's too late for Walter to go dumb now. His decision not to be lured back up on the hill proves it.

Johnson is making good as a manager and it would be a clown stunt for him to jeopardize his swell job by dividing his worries between keeping the Senators in that flag fight and the condition of his famed right flipper.

Attempts have been made to talk the ex-fire ball king into flinging them past batters again. He's been told he could do it. But Walter never forgets that when those spheres back at him faster than he could throw them, it wouldn't be anybody but Walter Johnson, out there on the hill, who would look like a prize sap.

While on the subject of comebacks it may be in order to check up on the veterans who have returned to the wars seeking a little glory but lots of gold, and see how many have regained the top.

This year we're witnessing the following comeback attempts: Jack Dempsey, Jess Willard and Jack Johnson, former heavyweight champions; Benny Leonard, former lightweight champion; Stanislaus Zyzeko, former welterweight champion; Charlie Paddock, former sprinting champion; Helen Meany, former auto racing champion, and a lot of non-champions who were pretty good—in their day.

None of these has succeeded in gaining his or her goal—though, it must be admitted, some have yet to face their test.

Of the lot Miss Meany and Barney Oldfield look to have the best chance and their sports are ones in which physical speed, the prize possession of youth, plays little part.

AFTER THE DISASTROUS DEFEAT ON LONG ISLAND WASHINGTON MADE A PLUCKY ATTEMPT TO HOLD NEW YORK, BUT THE BRITISH WARSHIPS SAILED UP THE HUDSON AND EAST RIVERS ON BOTH SIDES OF THE ISLAND AND SHELLED THE AMERICANS FROM THEIR TRENCHES.

HOWE LANDED AN OVERWHELMING FORCE, HOPING TO TRAP THE AMERICANS IN NEW YORK, BUT WASHINGTON, EVER ON THE ALERT, SAVED HIS ARMY BY A RAPID AND SKILFUL RETIREMENT.

THE BRITISH TOOK POSSESSION OF NEW YORK CITY, WHILE WASHINGTON FELL BACK TO HARLEM, WHERE HE TOOK UP A STRONG DEFENSIVE POSITION. BOTH SIDES PREPARED FOR BATTLE.

SEPTEMBER 16, 1776, THE RED COATS ATTACKED THE AMERICAN LINES AT HARLEM HEIGHTS, BUT WERE HURLED BACK WITH HEAVY LOSSES. THIS VICTORY RESTORED THE CONFIDENCE OF WASHINGTON'S MEN.

ENTERTAINS CLUB

Lewis And Committee Present Relief Demands To County On Friday

Members of the Unemployed Council of Lawrence county, led by George (Rocky) Lewis, marched on Friday afternoon from South Jefferson street to the court house where Lewis was spokesman for a committee which presented relief demands to county commissioners Elder, Woods and Connor.

The committee was greeted affably, but was told the commissioners could not meet the demands. About 80 members were in the line of march. Later when the business of the commissioners necessitated a delay of practically an hour before Lewis could be heard the crowd was increased at the court house. During the delay speeches by Unemployed members of the council were made. After the meeting Lewis spoke and the crowd dispersed.

Sheriff Frank Johnston with deputies met the marchers. As Lewis stroled up the steps the sheriff greeted him courteously but firmly, and said that if Lewis would collect the committee he would escort the body to the county commissioners office.

Lewis said Johnston's plan was satisfactory. Owing to the opening of bridge bids, Lewis and the committee waited in the sheriff's office about an hour to meet the commissioners. Johnston escorted the body to the commissioners' office and introduced Lewis.

The spokesman said he represented the marchers and alleged that several families were in dire distress. County commissioners requested the addresses. Lewis said he would furnish them.

Demands Set Forth
Lewis next asked the county commissioners to cut their salary and donate the money to aid the unemployed. Other demands presented followed:

$10 in cash weekly for married unemployed worker's families, with $2 in cash weekly for each dependent.

$5 in cash weekly for all single unemployed workers, male and female above the age of 18 years.

Free gas, light and water for all families of unemployed and part-time worker's families.

Free medical and dental services for all unemployed and part-time workers and dependents.

Free clothing and shoes for all children of unemployed and part-time workers.

No foreclosures of mortgages, no tax sales of properties of workers; no forced sales on properties of workers.

Exemption from paying poll-tax for all unemployed and part-time workers. No disfranchisement because of poverty.

Lewis invited a member of the commission to give the reply to the crowd outside the court house.

Elder asked Lewis "Where would we get the money?"

"That's up to you to get it," replied Lewis.

Easy To Talk About Getting Money
Elder said in substance it was difficult to secure money but more easy to talk about getting it.

Lewis asked: "What about insurance for the unemployed?" to which Elder replied "I don't know anything about it."

Lewis inferred that if the commissioners cannot "do the job they should get out."

"I believe I am as capable of doing this job as you," smiled Commissioner Elder.

Lewis inquired about the Talbot bill fund and the commissioners said the money had not arrived on Friday.

Lewis declared that $100,000,000 would be necessary for relief in Pennsylvania.

Lewis advocated a special session of the legislature whereupon Commissioner Woods declared:

"We cannot meet the demands. 'Will you should go to the legislature,'" he added.

Connor stated: "We're limited in what we can do. We are doing the best we can. If we had jobs to give we would give them. We are contributing to the mayor's relief and institution."

Walter Allen, 848 Franklin avenue, another member of the committee, addressed the commissioners. He said he receives several days employment a week, at $3.24 a day and it went to keep two families.

Connor told Mr. Allen he was doing well.

Lewis arose again and asked: "Will you reduce salaries of court house officials?"

The commissioners did not reply. The committee and Lewis departed from the office and Lewis made an address to the crowd, telling the results of the meeting.

There was no disorder. Three State policemen and one State Highway patrolman were on duty at the court house. However, Sheriff Johnston and his deputies took charge of the situation and handled it efficiently.

Pittsburgh Man Fatally Stabbed

Alleged Slayer Of Man During Drinking Party Is Being Hunted

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, April 16—William Galloway, 32, was found stabbed to death today and a police dragnet was thrown out for Louis Friedel, 33, alleged to have quarreled with Galloway over Virginia Parker, 20, one time beauty contest winner.

Miss Parker was held for questioning.

Mrs. Helen Hofer, at whose home the argument occurred, was not detained. She is the mother of the beauty contest winner by a former marriage.

She told police that Galloway and Friedel had been drinking and that when she and her daughter went to the kitchen to quiet them the men went into an unlighted front room.

A few moments later, police said Mrs. Hofer told them, she heard a window crash and then a dull thud. She said she found Galloway lying on the floor.

There was no trace of Friedel.
